TINTIC ELKS ARE GETTING READY TO DEDICATE BUILDING

long remembered by those who were present.
At that banquet it was reported that the lodge "blew in" two or three times as much money as it received from the initiation fees, but being made up of the right stuff to constitute good Elks, it was, like a cork, irreplaceable, and it soon came to the surface again. The fame of the new lodge as social entertainers and generous helpers of those in need soon spread and brought many additions to its roster. The new quarters of the district, most of the professional, business and mining men of prominence becoming members. From that time to this the social and financial success, indicated by its lucky number of "seven-eleven" has never deserted it, and today the lodge ranks with any of its size in the United States from any point of view. The first exalted ruler of the lodge was Jere E. Driscoll, who still continues in office as treasurer of the lodge.

Buy Site for Home.

For three or four years the history has not been marked by any particular event until it was determined to purchase suitable ground and erect an Elks' home. A desirable location was obtained on the main street of Eureka, and a building committee, consisting of P. J. Fennell, chairman; W. F. Shriver, secretary; Edward Pike, M. D. Howett and James Knowles, was appointed by the lodge to act in the matter and secure plans and specifications for a suitable building for the Elks of Tintic. This committee secured plans and specifications from Watkins & Birch, architects of Salt Lake City, for a two-story building 60x100 feet.
The lower floor is adapted for a large department store, and the upper floor for the Elks' lodge room, banquet room and offices. The contract was let to M. E. Anderson of Brigham City, Utah, and work commenced about a year ago, and after several delays the building was finished and duly accepted by the building committee about three months ago. As completed, the building, with its beautiful white pressed brick front and handsome elk's head design, is surely the finest in Eureka, and among the creditable buildings of the state.

The lodge room has been specially designed for lodge purposes, and is admired by every Elk who has visited it. Its dimensions are 30x38 feet, with large adjoining banquet room, buffet, committee room and ladies' parlor. The offices in front are used for professional purposes, while the large store and warehouse below are occupied by the large modern department store of the Heffernan-Thompson company.

With the completion of this building it is no wonder that the Tintic Elks have decided to celebrate the event next Tuesday, by not only dedicating it, but by holding a celebration that will be a red letter day in the history of the state have been invited to participate in the festivities, and they will all be well represented when the roll is called on Tuesday night.

The Salt Lake lodge No. 54 will run a special train from Salt Lake over the Salt Lake Route, and they will bring with them a number of the most prominent Elks in the state. They will arrive here at 5 o'clock in the evening, and, weather permitting, the entire city will turn out to welcome them. Upon their arrival they will, no doubt, find the Tintic Elks being bombarded by the Japs, for there will be some screeching of the different mine whistles, and there will be salvoes of what will sound like artillery fired off on the surrounding hills by exploding immense charges of dynamite, that will make the welkin ring and fairly shake the earth in this vicinity.

Big Parade and Music.

There will be a big parade with music and other special features. At 7 o'clock the formal dedication exercises will take place at the lodge room, where a fine program has been prepared. At 9:30 the grand march is announced to begin at the Elks' pavilion, and the dance will be led off by the grand lodge and subordinate lodge officers. At 11:30 the banquet will take place at the Miners' union hall, and numerous toasts will be responded to by prominent Elks from the different lodges. Past Exalted Ruler Ed. Pike has been selected as toastmaster for this particular occasion, and it is assured that there will be nothing slow during the progress of the

May We Clean House for You?

No Excuse for that worried look haunting your face when you think of housecleaning time.

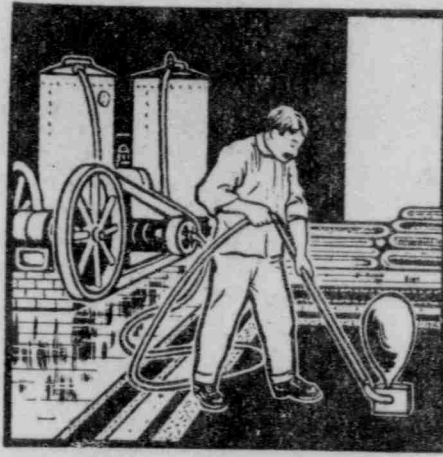

No Excuse for the family "peevishness" that results from poorly prepared meals and the confusion attendant upon housecleaning season.

No Excuse for the hard labor and grief of it all.

It is neither healthy nor sanitary for you to do your own housecleaning. Our process of compressed air not only cleans the carpets in a more thorough manner, but it saves the carpet by doing away with the wear and tear of the beating. It takes HALF the time to accomplish the job. It is actually cheaper for us to do it for you.

Our cleaners are experienced men, who know

HOW, and who save no effort to do the work in such a manner that they will be welcome next season. They do everything connected with housecleaning. They clean the carpets, rugs, curtains and windows; remove the dirt from every surface and corner, besides polishing the floors, cleaning the woodwork and wallpaper in a way you do not even know how to START. Everything is CLEAN and put in order when we leave your home.

feast. The Eureka Symphony orchestra will discourse good music during the entire evening. One of the most important toasts of the evening, of course, will be the "Ladies," responded to by Colonel Applegate of Salt Lake, and District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler L. B. White of Park City is slated to respond to the toast to the "Grand Exalted Ruler."

One of the most unique programs has been designed by the committee on program, and has been issued by the Eureka Reporter. It represents on the frontispiece the Elks' new building and old Chief Tintic of Indian fame, sitting with his rifle across his knees gazing upon the changed landscape which the march of progress has brought to the great Tintic mining district, and in this connection it is rumored that one of the old inhabitants of Tintic will have some thrilling Indian stories to recount at the banquet table. Taking everything into consideration, "Purple day" in Eureka promises to be a "hummer."

The officers of the lodge at the present time are: Exalted ruler, Dr. J. A. Hensel; esteemed leading knight, James L. Williams; esteemed loyal knight, John F. Rowe; esteemed lecturing knight, W. F. Shriver; secretary, Dan B. Cronin; treasurer, Jere E. Driscoll; esquire, H. E. Wall; chaplain, Walter Jensen; organist, Frank Morley; innkeeper, William Mellor, and William Embleton, tyler; trustees, Hugh Heffernan, Gus J. Henriod and H. C. Don Carlos. The past exalted rulers of the order are: Jere E. Driscoll, Edward Pike, George M. Hayes, D. D. Hanks, P. J. Fennell, Gus J. Henriod, Frank E. Higson and Elijah Bowen.

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will care you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases.

It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.,—take the advice received and be well.
